

Saturday, April 25 | 2:00 PM
Orpheum Theater
o-pa.org

omaha performing arts

Going to see Disney's THE LION KING

A social story

Disney PRESENTS
THE LION KING
THE WORLD'S #1 MUSICAL

©Disney

I am going to see a musical called Disney's THE LION KING.

This social story booklet will tell me what to expect when I go to see the show.

In musicals the actors talk, sing and dance to tell the story. The actors may dress as animals or other things, but they are only pretending.

In Disney's THE LION KING, some characters are performed by actors using puppets, while others are performed by actors using special masks and costumes.

I will see Disney's THE LION KING at the Orpheum Theater.
I will travel to the Orpheum Theater by car along with my family, teacher or caregiver.

When I arrive, I will be greeted by someone at the entrance who will have me get in the security line.

When in line, someone will ask me to put my belongings in a plastic bin and will check my things.

I will walk through the metal detectors which may make a beeping noise when I walk through. A security guard may wave a wand over my body, and afterwards, my things will be given back to me.

I may get my ticket from someone at Will Call.

My tickets will then be scanned so that I can enter the lobby before the show.

After they scan my ticket and my family/friend's tickets, we will go into the lobby area and be welcomed by the team from Omaha Performing Arts.

Next, we will go to Slosburg Hall where a person called an Ambassador will help my family, teacher or caregiver and me find my seat.

I will sit in my seat and wait for the show to begin. Other kids and their families will also be at the Orpheum Theater. We will all wait together for the show to start.

BUYI ZAMA AS "RAFIKI" IN THE LION KING NORTH AMERICAN TOUR.
©DISNEY. PHOTO BY DEEN VAN MEER

When I hear an announcement that the show is ready to start, the theater will get darker, everyone will become quiet and the curtains will open.

There will be talking and running around on stage during the show. Some performers may come into the seating area to sing. Some people will clap or laugh. I can clap or laugh, also. If it is too loud, I can cover my ears or use earplugs or headphones.

If it is still too loud or I need a break, I will tell my family, teacher or caregiver. They will take me to the bathroom or to the quiet area. It is okay if I need a break. I can come back and watch the show when I am ready.

In the middle of the show, there will be a break called an Intermission. This is a time I can use the bathroom, get a snack or take a break.

When the show is over, the actors will come to the front of the stage and take a bow. Everyone around me will clap and cheer. I can clap too, or I can cover my ears if it is too loud.

omaha performing arts

Everyone at the Orpheum hopes that I had a great time at the show and will see me again soon!